

Q1: When will schools be notified if they are receiving an Administrative Review next school year?

A1: We will be determining which SFAs will be receiving an Administrative Review in the 2014-15 school year over the summer. If your SFA has been chosen, you will receive a memo from the School Nutrition Team in early fall to alert you of this. We also post a listing of all AR sites on the SNT website as well.

Q2: When students are gone all day on a field trip, do teachers need to follow the Smart Snacks rule?

A2: If you are not on the school campus, then no, you do not need to follow the Smart Snacks rule. The Smart Snack Standards apply to the school campus which is defined as; all areas of the property under the jurisdiction of the school that are accessible to students during the school day. A site that is off of the school campus is not regulated by Smart Snacks. All SFA's have the opportunity to outline standards for field trip meals in their Local Wellness Policy.

Keep in mind that if the lunches are being prepared by the school food service and they are claimed for reimbursement they must follow the daily requirements under the National School Lunch Program. The weekly requirements do not need to be planned if it is an occasional field trip.
